

THE EVENING NEWS

DEVOTED TO MAKING ADA A LARGER AND MORE PROGRESSIVE CITY

VOLUME 8.

ADA, OKLAHOMA, THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 24, 1911

NUMBER 121.

NORMAL WILL OPEN SEPT. 11.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR SUCCESS FUL TERM—FACULTY OF STRONG TEACHERS IN CHARGE.

The third term of the East Central State Normal will begin September 11. This will undoubtedly be far ahead of either of the two previous years work, for the reputation of the school has extended throughout the state, and the thoroughness which characterizes the teaching of the school has placed it to the front among the educational institutions of Oklahoma.

No other school in the state has a more carefully selected faculty than the Ada normal. Each teacher is a specialist in his line and is working with zeal to raise the school head and shoulders above any other. That they are succeeding is shown by the fact that teachers in every section of the state chose this school in preference to all others for their summer work. They went away well pleased, and every one will become a booster for the Ada school.

The normal should be the pride of every citizen of Ada. In the first place, it was secured after two of the most strenuous fights in the history of the town. Practically every citizen had a hand in the work and has reason to feel some pride in the success of the results achieved. The school has made good during its two years of existence, and its benefits to the town are too numerous to need enumerating.

BRILES PROSECUTION STRIKES A SNAG

Oklahoma City, Aug. 24.—Telegrams and letters, more important as evidence of the guilt or innocence of members of the board of education with alleged political transactions on the board, have disappeared from his desk, was the statement of Governor Cruce Wednesday, during the progress of the investigation of the board. These letters and telegrams, said the governor, in his opinion came nearer solving the charges of political transactions than any evidence that has been produced in the hearing. Governor Cruce could not account for the disappearance of the records, nor could he be enlightened by anyone.

Overruling the introduction of evidence tending to show alleged irregularities of Professor Briles while president of the Ada normal, until at least the prosecution established the fact that members of the board of education had knowledge of it before Briles was appointed, and the declaration of J. R. Jacobs, attorney for the prosecution, who went on the stand as a witness, that Scott Glenn was a political crook, if there was any in Oklahoma, were features of the investigation of the board of education at the session before Governor Cruce Wednesday morning.

Opposition to the evidence against Briles came from Senator R. M. Roddie, who appeared Wednesday as representing Briles. Roddie lives at Ada. Roddie claimed that the same charge against Briles had been investigated by the former board of regents of the Ada school and that Briles had been exonerated; that to bring the matter up again was not germane to the investigation. Governor Cruce immediately agreed that unless the prosecution could establish the fact that present members of the school board had knowledge of it no evidence would be heard.

Briles Evidence Ruled Out.

Ralph J. Brooks, teacher of physics and chemistry in the Ada school, was called to the stand and the prosecution began asking questions concerning the alleged money transactions of Briles. It was then Senator Roddie objected to the evidence. In making his ruling Governor Cruce said that the evidence of the witness Ethridge of the Tuesday evening did not show that any money had been kept by Briles or had been used by him.

RODDIE WILL CALL SENATE CAUCUS

Oklahoma City, Ok., Aug. 23.—Senator Reuben M. Roddie of Ada, chairman of the senate democratic caucus, will call a meeting of the members of that party here during the state fair for the purpose of considering legislation on congressional districts. Senator Roddie has been in touch with the members on the subject. In his response to Gov. Cruce he urged that a session be called for the purpose of considering amendments to the primary election law, practically as those embodied in the Mitchell-Vanderventer bill of the regular session, the state capital matter, amendments to the state banking law, including the reciprocal feature, and requirement that state funds be kept in state banks and apportionment for congressional districts.

"Reapportionment alone is sufficient excuse for calling an extra session," said the senator. "Gov. Cruce is not responsible for the conditions which make the session necessary. Had congress done its duty, the ratio would have been fixed in ample time to have enabled us to attend to the matter during the regular session. A republican senate saw fit to kill the measure with the hope of winning their old districts in the next election and forcing the state to choose their increase at large. If democracy is good for the people, then Oklahoma should abolish these old republican made districts. I would be willing to go before the people in justification of the special session idea."

NEGRO TRIED TO BURN VICTIM

WOMAN NEAR PURCELL VICTIM OF ASSAULT—MAY NOT RE- COVER FROM INJURIES.

Purcell, Okla., Aug. 24.—A lynching was prevented near here at 1 o'clock Thursday morning when officers who captured a negro named Carter, identified as the assailant of Mrs. Stagner, a white woman, succeeded in escaping a mob of 500 men and carried the negro out of this vicinity.

It is believed he was carried to Norman or Oklahoma City as a north bound freight train passed through here shortly after 1 o'clock. The attack on Mrs. Stagner took place about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night on the farm of Judge Harper, one mile south of Purcell, and the negro, after committing his first crime, set fire to the house before beginning his flight.

The woman may not recover from her injuries, and was unconscious late Wednesday night, but before losing ing consciousness she was able to give the name of her assailant.

The negro entered the house with the knowledge that all the men were detained in the field to finish some work, and as they were 500 yards from the place Mrs. Stagner's screams were not heard. She has been able to give no definite account of the crime.

The sight of the blazing house brought the men running from their task, and they arrived just in time to save Mrs. Stagner, who was unable to move. She was carried from the place to the home of Judge Harper, where she is under the care of physicians. The house was destroyed.

The alarm spread over the whole central section of McClain county quickly, and posses were started out from Lexington and Purcell almost simultaneously.

NEGROES APPEAL JIM CROW CASE

Oklahoma City, Aug. 24.—E. P. McCabe, former auditor of Oklahoma territory, and other negroes who brought suit in the federal district court at Guthrie against the Santa Fe, the Rock Island, the Frisco and the Katy railroads, have appealed their case to the supreme court of the United States. Judge Cotterall, at Guthrie, sustained a demurrer filed by the carriers, in effect upholding the Oklahoma statute, and from there the negroes appealed to the circuit court of appeals, where the district court was sustained by a divided opinion. The decision of affirmance was written by Judge Adams and concurred in by Judge Hook, while Judge Sanborn, writing the dissenting opinion, took the view that the law was in conflict with principles of the federal constitution.

Validity of the Oklahoma statute turns upon the meaning of the language, and whether it is intended to and does cover interstate as well as intrastate travel.

Labor Day Picnic at Lawrence.
Probably the last picnic of the year is scheduled for Monday, September 4. This will be a celebration of Labor Day at Lawrence. Arrangements are being made for a general good time and being a holiday, a large attendance is expected.

M. W. Chapin was called to Sherman this morning by a message announcing the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. M. J. Chapin. She suffered severe injuries in a fall received a few days ago.

J. J. Chapman and family left last night for their new home in the Northwest. They expect to locate near Yuma, Oregon.

THORNTON IS OPTIMISTIC

ESTIMATES COTTON RECEIPTS FOR SEASON AT 12,500 BALES MADE CLOSE GUESS LAST YEAR.

A. K. Thornton is still something of an optimist in regard to the cotton crop. His estimates of the season's wagon receipts at Ada is 12,500 bales. He is probably taking into consideration the increased acreage, and the impetus to the trade that will be given by the premiums to be distributed to farmers bringing their cotton to Ada, but even then many will think he has overestimated it some.

However, it must be admitted that Mr. Thornton is a keen observer of conditions. Last year many thought 7,000 or 8,000 would cover the receipts at Ada, but he said 10,000. The final figures stood at 10,368.

SOME HOT ONES FROM CHAMP CLARK

By Clyde H. Tavenner.

Washington, Aug. 24.—"The president has raised an issue which will rage with unabated fury until the close of the polls in November, 1912."

When Speaker Champ Clark threw down this challenge in what is now regarded as one of the most brilliant and militant speeches of his entire career it meant not only that the democratic fight for lower cost of living was to be one to a finish, but that Champ Clark himself was the man best qualified to lead that fight.

Republicans as well as democrats apparently realized this, as was evidenced by the fact that when the speaker's name was mentioned in connection with the presidency, the big Missourian was cheered to the echo.

To those in the galleries, too, there was a significant meaning to this wild demonstration; it meant that Champ Clark of Missouri, who started life as a poor barefoot country boy plowing corn on a rocky hillside in Kentucky, had entered on the last leg of a journey to the white house. And to the ears of Clark's friends in the crowded chamber the din of applause also sounded sweet, for to challenged, because it is absolutely untrue. What happened? We called a democratic caucus of the democratic members-elect of this house on the 19th day of January. The purpose of that proceedings was to select the democratic members of the committee on ways and means that they might go to work preparing tariff bills. Some of the republican newspapers said it was my crazy scheme, but it worked like a charm. We chose the democratic members and they went to work and spent nearly three months preparing this wool bill. I defy my friend from New York (Mr. Payne) to state that he ever spent three months on any one schedule of a tariff bill."

GRAND JURY AT DURANT INDICTS 9

Durant, Okla., Aug. 24.—The third special grand jury called to investigate the burning of the negro, who assaulted and brutally murdered Mrs. Campbell, has returned nine indictments in connection with the case. Three of these are for unlawful assembly, and six for riot. The names of those indicted have not been made public.

GOOD FOR CARTER.

The appropriation for the Indian payment seemed doomed to defeat towards the end of the session of congress, and but for some energetic work on the part of Charley Carter of this district, it would no doubt have failed of passage. In the final rush of business it was no easy matter to get a bill of local nature through both houses and signed by the president, but by hustling our congressman succeeded. When paid out this fall that sum of $5,000,000 will go quite a ways in making up for the short cotton crop. It will make life easier for many an Indian whose rents are cut down. It was indeed a victory of which Congressman Carter may be proud.

Senator Culberson favors the submission of the names of presidential candidates to the voters of Texas in a primary. The News thinks the idea a good one. As it has been heretofore presidents have been named by a handful of politicians while the people have had practically no voice in the matter. Give them a chance to express their sentiment just as in other matters. If they are to rule, the people are certainly entitled to say who the candidates for the presidency shall be.

A GREAT HOWL FROM UP HOPPIN' HOLLER

The Geeville Trumpet Blast of Freedom Kills Scoop.

One of the Bungbubble Brothers Learns That All is Not Gold That Glitters.

BY ED MOTT.

As I was deep one day in writing for the ensuing number of The Gee-ville Trumpet Blast of Freedom, a man with hickory trousers stuffed in cowhide boots, wearing a limp felt hat, and with joy beaming from his face like a candle shining through the holes in a pumpkin jack-lantern, came bustling into the office.

"Fol de rol, de rol, de raddidy! Fol de rol, de rol, de ray!" was his introductory remark, as he cut a series of backwoods pigeon wings around the room.

It was court week, during which event the back districts invariably turned out their denizens almost to a man, either as witnesses, jurymen or litigants, and the Geeville tavern set out to the popular demand a tipple that had won much fame for the promptness with which it took dull care by the neck and chucked it out of the window, so to speak; so I at first thought that my sudden and joyous visitor was one of these, and had been in fond and too-protracted dal-liance with that insinuating and insidious bowl. But such was not the fact. After he had warbled and pi-rouetted off his first burst of glee, he

"Fol de Rol, de Rol, de Raddidy! Fol de Rol, de Rol, de Ray!" plunked down in a chair, slammed his hat on the floor, and said:

"I'm one of the Bungbubble boys,
from Hoppin' Holler! I'm Jehosaphat Bungbubble—'Hoss' they call me fer short, an' that's what I am, Squire!
A hoss, you bet you! A hoss that always gits there, an' gits there first!
You had a Blarin' from Blarin' Ridge in your paper last week, statin' p'tic'lar an' quite conspicuous like, as sorty makin' Elnathan Jaggars's wife Araminty Jane had run away with young Socrates Munyon, somethin' that hadn't happened at Blarin' Ridge sence nobody knowed when.
That's about the natur' o' the Blarin' from Blarin' Ridge that brung the Ridge to the top o' the heap in the Trumpet Blast last week, ain't it?"

I admitted that The Trumpet Blast had been enlivened the last week by an item such as he mentioned.

"Huh, huh," said the beaming visitor, nodding. "That was a humper an' no mistake. It was most as excitin' an' entertainin' as the one you had in The Trumpet Blast the week afore that yit, in the Limpin's from Lame Crow Barren, about Rube Sloper havin' been ketchin' settin' fire to 'Biram Wing's barn, an' the findin' out that he had lugged away all the hay an' others things that was in it 'fore he sot the fire."

I said I thought his judgment was about correct as to that. "The item from Lame Crow Barren certainly was unique," I said.

"Huh, huh," nodded my critical visitor, who then remarked with a great rousing of positiveness:

"But I'm goin' to give you a piece for your paper that's as much more unique than runnin' off with somebody's wife, or hoss stealin', or burn-in' your neighbor's barn as lynchin' a feller-citizen is more tetchin' than trappin' a mushrat! You know the Widder Smudgecrack, an' you know the Widder Smudgecrack's place, don't you?"

I had some knowledge of the widow and her place, I told my eccentric visitor.

"Why, consarn it!" exclaimed this excited representative of the Bungbubble family. "She's sixty-eight if she's a minute! Sixty-eight past. An' ain't she humy? Jeff Slifer, what worked fer her, says he'll make afdavit that she sot in her cornfield this past season an' actly skeert the crows away, she's that humy! An' thin'? Why, Squire, an ash saplin has got more meat on it than the widder Smudgecrack kin brag on! Fact! She's deef'n a post, too, an' her off eye is out. As fer her place, you couldn't raise white beans on the most of it! For aggercult'ral purposes that place o' the widder's ain't worth seven shillin' an acre. But she's that contrary an' sot in her ways that she won't sell the blasted place fer no price. She says if any feller wants that place he's got to take her with it an' change her name to his'n. What do you think o' that, Squire?"

"An' who do you think's been edgin' round the widder, anxious to git the clearin' on them diskerridin' terms?
Actly willin' to marry the Widder Smudgecrack to git that clearin'?
Why, Solon Pippes! An' why is he so egotistical durn anxious to git the place on them diskerridin' terms?
'Cause he's found out that the place has got this here on to it. That's why!"

My beaming visitor took a handful of glittering, heavy bits of what seemed to be ore from his pocket and handed them to me. Then he danced joyously again, making a football of his old felt hat.

"Gold, by jicketty!" he shouted.
"Gold! Fol de rol, de rol, de raddidy!
Gold on the Widder Smudgecrack's place! Fol de rol, de rol, de raddidy!
She's old, an' as rattly as a dried gourd, an' deaf, an' shy an' off eye, an'
her place ain't worth seven shillin' an acre fer aggercult'ral purposes!
But there's gold on to it! Tons an' tons of it! Fol de rol, de rol, de rad-didy! An' Solon Pippes, poor feller, has found it out somehow, an' is willin' to marry the widder! He told me so! But he don't know that the wid-der's dead sot on to me! He fergits that I'm one o' the Bungbubble boys from Hoppin' Holler—Jehosaphat Bungbubble, called 'Hoss' fer short, just what I am, by jicketty! A hoss that always gits there, an' gits there first! Fol de rol, de rol, de raddidy!"

"An' Solon's goin' up to ask her tonight. An' the widder don't know she's got gold on her place. She's dead sot on me an' Solon can't tetch her! Fol de rol, de rol, de raddidy! She's old enough to be my mammy, but she's

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair, and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

To Owners of Real Estate In Pontotoc County

There are frequently found, upon examination, unknown and unsuspected clouds upon the title of real estate, such as unpaid taxes, uncancelled mortgages, mechanic liens, judgments, deeds of conveyances defective in signature, in acknowledgment or description, adverse claimants, errors made by conveyancing officers, and innumerable other defects, any of which may exist, all unsuspected by the owner, who fondly believes his title clear, but who really knows nothing about it, because he has never had an investigation made and an abstract of title prepared. Most of these clouds and defects could be cleared and cured were their existence known in time; but they lay dormant and are not discovered until the owner is rudely awakened from his fond dream of security by some progressive speculator or purchaser offering a good round price for his property, but demanding an abstract of title as the first condition of the sale.

AHLOSO REVIVAL MEETING CLOSED

The people of Ahloso community are rejoicing over a revival meeting which has just closed in our community. The meeting lasted two weeks and closed Monday night, Aug. 21. There were 41 conversions as a result of the meeting. Rev. Gus Hendrix did the preaching and did it well as usual. Rev. Hendrix presents the Bible so simple a manner that a child can understand. On Monday Aug. 21 Revs. C. Stubblefield and A. J. Deaton came down from Ada to assist in the organization of a Missionary Baptist church. The church was organized with 35 members. We invite Bro. Stubblefield and Bro. Deaton to visit our community again.
